sublimation

The dye sublimation process uses advanced digital printing methods on high quality fabrics, and allows any design or logo possibilities imaginable in one price.

add your logo

We stock Australian and NZ standard Hi Vis Day and Night workwear. Customise your workwear with one of our high quality application methods listed below choose your design

include your colours

maximise your exposure screenprinting

embroidery

digital transfer

Screenprinting is a versatile and inexpensive application method, well suited for large quantities of garments and logos that have fewer colours. Our printers will be able to match all corporate or pantone colours on almost any garment

Embroidery offers the professional look and feel unlike any other application method. Our wide array of high quality threads will ensure your company is accurately represented, with a slick and durable finish

Digital transfers are a fast and affordable alternative of logo application available. Heat pressing is ideal for small quantity orders and individual names and numbers. We stock a wide range of colours and our vinyls are 100% washable
